COURSE REQUIREMENT:

This course will use McGraw-Hill's Connect - a web-based assignment and assessment solution required for this course. Connect is designed to assist you with your coursework based on your needs. As outlined in this syllabus, assignments will make up a significant portion of your overall course.

Connect access codes are packaged with a new textbook in the bookstore, at no additional cost. Connect can also be purchased online at our section's Connect web address:

<https://connect.mheducation.com/class/j-chen-spring-2020---bsad-2020-managerial-accounting>

If you purchase Connect online, you will have the option of purchasing Connect or ConnectPlus, which includes an interactive eBook to supplement the required textbook for this course. NOTE: You can register in Connect and have access without a code for a limited time period (typically three weeks).

Open the above URL, on the left bottom, you will see 2 buttons: How to register with an access code and How to buy access online. If you don't have the access code, Click on "How to buy access online", it will pop up a new window and click "PLAY". The PowerPoint presentation will walk you through the process of buying access code. If you already have access code, click “How to register with an access code”, it will popup a new window and click “PLAY”. The PowerPoint presentation will walk you through the registration process.

To register in Connect, please visit:

COURSE DISCUSSION

This is an important part of the class, and your level of participation will determine your grade for this portion of the course. Use the Discussion board to express your thoughts, consider other's views, ask questions, and share any discoveries you have made with other in the class.

Your contribution to the Discussions will be assessed by your instructor on the quality of your responses. Note that in most Discussions, there will not necessarily be right and wrong answers; rather, focus on developing and explaining your responses. Also be prepared to question, respond to, and critique others' answers and explanations. These questions, responses, and critiques will be a part of this grade.

The instructor will visit the Discussion regularly to share insights he or she may have, answer questions, and monitor the discussion and each class member's participation. Questions and answers you post to the Discussion should pertain to class material. Address any personal matters to the instructor's personal e-mail found at the top of the page or on the Classmates page.

Academic Integrity Policy

Every member of the College community is expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. A student shall not submit work that is falsified or is not the result of the student's own effort. A student who is in doubt regarding standards of academic integrity in a course or assignment should consult the faculty member responsible for that course or assignment before submitting the work. A student's lack of understanding of the academic integrity policy is not a valid defense to a charge of academic dishonesty.

A student's name on any written or creative exercise (e.g., examination, report, thesis, theme, laboratory report, computer program, artistic production, etc.), or in association with an oral presentation, declares that the work is the result of that student's own thought and study. Any work that the student declares as his or her own shall be stated in the student's own words and produced without the assistance of others. Students must make clear through accurate citations when they make use of other sources. Talking during an examination, or possession or use of unauthorized materials or equipment during an examination constitutes an infringement of the academic integrity policy. Aiding and abetting academic dishonesty also constitutes a violation of the academic integrity policy.

Unless permission is received in advance from the faculty member in charge of the course involved, a student may not submit, in identical or similar form, work for one course that has been used to fulfill any academic requirement in another course at Fitchburg State College or any other institution. A student who perceives the possibility of overlapping assignments in courses should consult with the appropriate faculty members before presuming that a single effort will fulfill requirements of both courses. Students should consult course syllabi for additional guidance on matters of academic integrity.

Statement about disability services

Fitchburg State University encourages the full participation of individuals with disabilities in all aspects of campus living and learning.

To support access and inclusion, FSC offers reasonable accommodations to students who have documented disabilities (e.g. physical, learning, psychiatric, sensory, etc.). If you require accommodations for this class, please provide me with a copy of your Accommodation Agreement as soon as possible so that we can discuss your specific needs. Any information that you share with me will be held in the strictest confidence, unless you give me permission to do otherwise.

If you require academic accommodations but do not have an Accommodation Agreement, please contact Disability Services as soon as possible to establish your eligibility for services. For more information, or to schedule an appointment, please call 978.665.4020 (voice/relay) Disability Services is located in the Academic Support Center on the third floor of the Hammond building.
